Literary Digest's Vote Starts Off Against New Deal

46.72% for, and 53.28% Against in First Straw Vote Tabulation

RETURNS 5 STATES

Administration Is Trailing in Iowa, Kansas and Missouri

A majority is voting against "the Roosevelt New Deal to date" as shown by the first returns of The Literary Digost's current 10,000,000-ballot poll on the Administration's "acts and policles" which will be published in Saturday's issue of the magazine.

The initial returns include 40,053 votes from five states in the South

The tabulation of the early balloting shows 53.28 per cent voting "no" and 46.72 per cent "yes" in answer to the question: "Do you now approve the acts and policies of the Roosevelt New Deal to date?"

A previous poll on the same issue conducted in the late spring of 1934, to practically the same voters, revealed a national sentiment of 61.15 per cent for the New Deal to 38.85 per cent against it. This was a larger percentage of popular approval for the President than the 59.15 per cent of the official Roosevelt-Hoover vote he received in 1932. Two of the five states, Georgia and Oklahoma, from which returns are published this week, give a majority vote for the New Deal while the other three states of Iowa, Kansas and Missouri, in the farm belt, register out-right disapproval.

An Open Letter

Editor The Star: Wednesday's paper had an editorial about checking up on the liquor stores here in Hope.

You quoted N. W. Ayer & Son as saying that 20 per cent of the average trade dollar during prohibition.
Then you say that days was spent for bootleg liquor. Then you say that your investigation shows only 3 per cent is now being diverted for legal liquor, or to all intent a reduction of 17 per cent for legal liquor as compared to bootleg liquor during prohibition days.

Then please explain why the increase in arrests here in Hope has jumped 450 per cent on drunkenness charges. The police records are open for anyone that wants to dig into them.

You know, of a truth, that a man with just a little liquor in him during prohibition was arrested at once, whereas now he has to be pretty well tanked up before an officer takes charge of him. Jim Bearden's statement that the liquor stores in Hope are the ones now violating the law is not far short of the truth. Last Monday night I was to leave Hope at 1 a. m.. but got away just a little late. Jett Williams' place was wide open at that hour, so just to satisfy myself I rode around over town and found three other saloons open and doing business as usual. The wets won't tell the truth and they won't obey

The Thorn liquor bill was pushed through our legislature and became a law because it was such a revenue producer, and Futrell had made it plain we must have the revenue. Thorn stated it would produce at least $2,000,000 per year in revenue. You say it has produced about $400,000 up to now, or about $50,000 per month and I am skeptical of that.

I think you should help vote whisky out of Hemp-stead county. Two-thirds of our people are bone-dry now. By the time our legislature meets again sentiment may be ripe for a trial of your plan. It never will be (tried) under legal liquor as now sold. The liquor interests will not let it be.

N. P. O'NEAL November 21, 1935 Hope, Ark.

The Editor's Reply

Dear Mr. O'Neal: I don't believe you intentionally misquoted last Wednesday's editorial. I presume you read the figures hurriedly and jumped to a conclusion without reading the text.

The Star did not say that legalization had reduced liquor consumption by comparison with the bootlegging

What The Star did say was: That the packageliquor stores have taken over substantially that amount of traffic formerly handled by the bootleggers and that is 3.3 per cent of the total retail store sales of Hempstead county, which compares with 20 per cent for the days before either prohibition or repeal.

As proof of your misquoting, I am repeating the following paragraphs from last Wednesday's editorial: The legal liquor business, therefore, is diverting 3.3 per cent of the total retail store sales of Hempstead county. But N. W. Ayer & Son, largest advertising agency on earth, is authority for the statement that the unreguated liquor traffic under ordinary circumstances diverts 20 per cent of the available trade dollars in an average community. I am assuming that the legal liquor stores of Hempstead county have taken over just about that amount of the liquor traffic formerly handled by the bootleggers and moonshiners. I am assuming that since it was imposible to prohibit liquor, this reduction was the approximate record under bootlegging conditions and is the actual record of the package-liquor stores today

The Star has obtained a record of the local arrests for drunkenness, but hasn't checked the accuracy of the statement that they have increased 450 per cent. But assuming this is correct, it still doesn't mean much. Two arrests per month before repeal, jumping to nine arrests per month after repeal, would make 450 per cent -and most of the time that's about all a percentage figure is worth in this kind of a dispute. The same evidence was offered in argument for adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment. But it is just as truly evidence for a state liquor control act.

However, the professional alarmists have to explain some extraordinary figures which The Star has obtained on the cost of feeding the prisoners in the city jail this year against last year-liquor was legalized in Arkansas only last March.

In July, August and September last year the City of Hope paid $70.25 for feeding its prisoners—but for the same three months this year, under repeal, the cost was only $55.92!

The truth is, Mr. O'Neal, that all through the prohibition era, and particularly in the closing years, there was virtually no attempt either to prosecute the bootleggers or arrest the drunkards. What I am speaking about is right here in Hope in 1929-33, after every football game and every dance. The First Christian church time and again formally complained to the council about the bootleg whisky bottles thrown upon their church lawn by people attending dances at the then Elks hall. And if the police are exercising a more rigorous hand today they are to be commended—not made a paltry piece of evidence to support an unenforceable prohibi-

Regarding the alleged bootlegging of liquor out-ofhours by the licensed package stores, let me tell you the humorous truth about that.

Shortly after The Star "cracked down" on the stores to compel them to quit selling liquor on credit there was a sharp drop in business at some places. There then arose a howl about "the bootleggers stealing us out." The State Revenue Department sent men down

"Hot Oil" Act Is Ruled to Be Valid

nally "hot oil" act was held valid and constitutional Thursday by Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins in an opinion iled in the federal clerk's office here. The decision denied an injunction to T. J. Oglesby and 16 other defendants in "hot oil" cases to prevent prosecu-tion under the law. Plaintiffs contended the act was unconstitutional because it exceeded federal authority.

Judge Dawkins granted the government a temporary injunction in a suit styled United States vs. E. F. Griswold, Shreveport refinery and others. The government sought an injunction to prevent the defendants in "hot oil" cases from continunig operations in violation of the Connally act. The government charged that the defendants were transporting oil into Louisiana for which federal tender had not been obtained.

Judge Dawkins said: "The Connally get is valid and constitutional and the purpose was to prohibit shipment or ransportation in interstate or foreign commerce of petroleum produce in excess of the amount permitted under the laws of a state.

THE sun came flooding in through a deep window. Close by, a bird was singing gaily. Done, lying in the great canopied bed, lifted her young arms high in sheer elation. A smile curved her mouth.

in a sudden rush of feeling Dana t-"It was ridiculous getting emotional last night. They'll like me soon, and I'll like them. At least, I'll tru awfully hard."

Water was running in the tub presently in the adjoining bathroom, and Dana was singing blitbe-

Across the hall an unhappy old woman listened to Dana's song. After a while she crossed the room and closed the transom. But she could still hear the words; "We'll sing a little, dance a little, love a lot . . . living in the middle of the moonlight."

The singer stopped abruptly and Mrs. Cameron sighed in relief. The girl was evidently a comunitic creature. Like, like-she wouldn't com plete the thought. But feelings, ideas that had been lying dormant through the years were crystalizing under a new impetus. Perhaps di was true that you had to direct romance. Perhaps it had been partially her fault that Dana's mother had wrecked her life and brought disgrace to a proud family name.

This girl seemed pliable enough. Much more so than Nancy. There was a stubborn one for you! Business at the liquor stores fell off again, and a few days ago some of the liquor dealers filed more telegrams to Commissioner Wiseman. . . . Naturally these formal complaints, being a matter of public record, were taken notice of by the prohibitionists.
But I want to ask you this question:

If you were going into the liquor business in a city whose total legal liquor sales are $81,636 a year, and there were six stores, would you honestly expect to make money on your share of that business, which would be, if evenly divided, $13,606? Of course you wouldn't.

There are six stores where there ought to be only two or three, and where, if The Star had its way, there would be only one-and publicly-owned at that.

The Star has already served notice on the liquor dealers that the number of licenses in Hope is going to

We will carry that fight personally to Commissioner Wiseman, with our own attorney, if necessary—when the time comes around for the renewal of licenses next year. We expect the city and county to back us up in that policy. We think most of the people will.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE Rev. W. Paul Hodge, Pastor

Rev. W. Paul Hodge the new pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, 511 South Elm street, filled his place in the pulpit both the morning and evening services last Sunday.

At the morning hour the Rev. Mr. Hodge used as a background for the message; Nehemiah rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem, bringing out the modern need of building a wall of spiritual power around our souls. At the evening hour the message was on the Power of Faith; bringing out the thought that faith does not bring victory, but "Faith is the victory." You are invited to attend the regular services. Southern League Is Raised to A-1

Salary Limit Increased to $4.600—Player Limit Is Put at 17

DAYTON, Ohio-(P)-Voting the Southern association and the Texas League Class A-1 ratings, the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues Thursday gave them an edge over the Western and New York-Penn Leagues, which are rated Class A.

The new rating will give the two leagues a better draft price, increase the salary limit from $4,250 to $4,600 and increase the player limit from 16

The application for the increased rating was presented by Fay Murray president of the Nashville club in the Southern and J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas League.

All of the proposed amendments ecutive committee of the National association to President W. G. Bramham of Durham, were passed. Judge Bramham's salary was increased from $8,500 to $12,500 a year.

17 Economic Condition of Nation Really Will Decide the Campaign

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Burcau, The Associated Press, Washington)
The political aspects of the unemployment problem are so numerous and so crucial that it is no wonder party leaders find even the most complicated statistics on that subject thoroughly fascinating.

One of the most widely accepted assumptions about 1936 is that the economic situation of the country—the degree of recovery—will have a most important effect in the election. Just now the one really difficult factor in that situation is unemployment.

Industrial activity manifestly is picking up. Credit is expanding. Agricul-ture is finding less to complain about, land values are better. All along the line, the economic indices all except one—point toward improvement.

No completely reliable figures are available, but all sources of economic information agree that reemployment has falled to keep pace with the general trend of recovery. Some even the 1936 fiscal year, his administration question whether there has been any real expansion of empolyment at all Without such an expansion, real and recognizable, political arguments nent target for criticism by Republithat the depression is over run into cans and business leaders, was one immediate difficulty. Spending Program

That, however, is only a part of the story. Another prime topic of political discussion is the spending program of the Roosevelt administration With that, too, the unemployment situation is linked directly.

So long as a disproportionate percentage of workers remain jobless, relief demands on the treasury will be heavy. Even if the administration does not ask for large appropriations. it is certain that the states and municipalities, working through their rep-last minute to determine how private resentatives in congress, will initiate industry is taking up the unemployand vigorously press such appropria-

Roosevelt Arrives at Warm Springs

President to Spend Three Weeks at His Winter Home in Georgia

WARM SPRINGS, Ga.-(A)--President Roosevelt sat beside the fireplace of his small cottage on Pine mountain Thursday night and indicated his pleasure at getting back again for Thanksgiving.

The special train brought the president here after an uneventful over-night journey from Washington. A good-sized crowd was at the tiny station to greet him.

The Franklin D. Roosevelt Boy Scout troop tooted trumpets from a nearby truck and the beaming Mr. Roosevelt stood by at the station for several minutes to chat with the welcomers. He stopped on the winding dirt road to the cottage a mile distant to wave a greeting to the children in the Warm Springs Foundation where they are being treated for the after-effects of

Father of Norvel Kelly Dies, Delight

J. B. Kelly, age 50, father of Net-vel Kelly of the Washington High School faculty, died at the family home in Delight, Pike county, early Wednesday morning. Mr. Kelly was called about 3 a.m. and notified of his father's death.

The elder Mr. Kelly had been in feeble health for about four years having suffered two strokes of paralysis during that time.

A native of Montgomery county, Mr. Kelly later moved to Delight where he was for many years active in civic and church life and ran a mercantile store. He served one term in the Arkansas legislature as representative from Pike county and was twice county judge.

Surviving Mr. Kelly are his wife five sons as follows: Pinck and Boyd of Delight; J. O., of Rogers; Harold of Kingsland; and Norvel of Washing-ton; two daughters, Miss Henna Kelly of Little Rock and Mrs. E. H. Roberts of Bauxite.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed Wednesday noon.

Don't Miss Reading Tomorrow's Paper

-- but you must tell it what to say

Let's suppose that the dollars you spend were suddenly given minds of their own-and the job of deciding what to buy for you.

They'd have to learn their way around in a hurry. And one of the first things they'd do would be to study the newspapers-every advertisement that discusses something you'd be needing, or wanting. They'd get the latest facts on automatic refrigerators and sports shoes and tea and motor oil and all the rest. They'd make a business of knowing what, where and when to buy.

Are you less careful and less constant in your adreading than you should be? Do you have to depend on other people for facts that are clearly stated in the advertising pages of this newspaper?

Read advertising thoughtfully, consider all the points you find there on their merits. Find out in advance exactly what things will best serve your needs-and why. After all, that's the only way to get your money's worth, every time.

The real reason for advertising is not to help some one sell something, but to help you buy what you
